Jules Buckley Press Quotes

On Jules Buckley's collaboration with Basement Jaxx and Metropole Orkest:

"This isn't the simple orchestration of a few old hits, but their transformation into a theatrical revue of cinematic sweep, in musically wide open terrain that leaves everyone grinning." (The Independent)

"The experimental ensemble turns Jaxx's funky dance tunes into big-band extravaganzas, each as sassy as a James Bond soundtrack, with the trumpets and Hollywood strings of Red Alert set against the glockenspiels of Raindrops." (The Times)

"This unexpected outing is sparkling, rich, witty fun." (The Daily Telegraph)

"The frenetic Bingo Bango morphs into a dreamy waltz; Where's Your Head At is a string-laden funereal lament. Several songs are barely recognisable, exposing hidden depths to dancefloor classics." (Sunday Express)

On Tim Minchin's arena tour with the Heritage Orchestra, conducted by Jules Buckley:

"If you're going to play big spaces, this is the way to do it; with a 55-piece orchestra and a juggernaut full of showmanship, making this a big show in every sense...a superlative night out." (Chortle)

"Minchin...the insanely gifted Australian is rounding off the year with an audacious show that sees him accompanied on stage by the 55-piece Heritage Orchestra...Taken all in all, a thing of jaw-dropping wonder." (The Daily Telegraph)
